

The "Tiger" sees Harvard beat Yale. Former Premier Clemenceau an intensely interested spectator among the crowd of 76,000 at New Haven. International.

The spectacular play of the big game. George Owen, Harvard half-back, starting on his run of fifty-seven yards through the Yale team which eventually resulted in a touchdown. Underwood & Underwood.

Pacific & Atlantic.

Sinking the navy—a demonstration by West Point cadets during the Army-Navy game testifying to their feelings in the matter of the respective abilities of the two teams. Fotograms.

Of distinguished lineage—a litter of kittens of "Winter Pax" and "Champion Silver Echo," owned by Miss Carroll Macy, to be exhibited at the annual show of the Silver Society in the Biltmore next Tuesday. Levick.

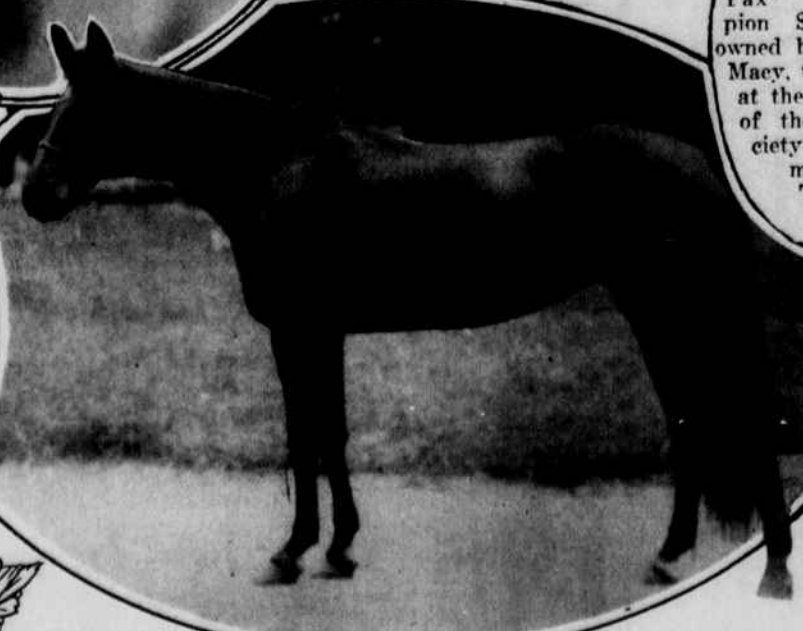

Violet Heming and Dennis King in a scene from "The Lucky One," the new Theater Guild production at the Garrick.

Above: Prominent rooters on both sides at the Army-Navy game. Left to right: Gen. Pershing, Secretary of War Weeks, Vice-President Coolidge and Secretary of the Navy Denby. Underwood & Underwood.

At right: Miss Olga Steck, a feature of "Springtime of Youth," at the Broadhurst Theater.

Miss Gloria Foy in "Up She Goes" at the Playhouse.

The champion trotting mare, Nedda, 1:58 1-4, owned and bred by W. B. Dickerman of Mamaroneck, N. Y.

Down on the farm—Babe Ruth, at the end of a strenuous day on his place at South Sudbury, Mass., where he is working hard through the winter in the hope of establishing new home run records next season. Central News.